Which of your data do we process? And for what purposes?

If we have received data from you, we will only process it for the purposes for which we received or collected it. Data processing for other purposes will only be considered if the legal requirements necessary in this respect pursuant to Art. 6 (4) GDPR exist. We will of course comply with any information obligations pursuant to Art. 13 (3) GDPR and Art. 14 (4) GDPR in that case.

On what legal basis is this based?

The legal basis for the processing of personal data is basically - unless there are other specific legal provisions - Art. 6 GDPR. In particular, the following possibilities come into consideration here:

- Consent (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a) GDPR).
- Data processing for the fulfillment of contracts (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b) GDPR)
- Data processing for the fulfillment of a legal obligation (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. c) GDPR)
- Data processing on the basis of a balance of interests (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f) GDPR)

If personal data is processed on the basis of your consent, you have the right to revoke your consent to us at any time with effect for the future.

If we process data on the basis of a balance of interests, you as the data subject have the right to object to the processing of personal data, taking into account the requirements of Art. 21 GDPR.

How long is the data stored?

We process the data as long as this is necessary for the respective purpose.

Insofar as statutory retention obligations exist - e.g. under commercial law or tax law - the personal data in question will be stored for the duration of the retention obligation. After expiry of the retention obligation, it is checked whether there is a further necessity for processing. If there is no longer a necessity, the data is deleted.

As a matter of principle, we carry out an examination of data towards the end of a calendar year with regard to the need for further processing. Due to the volume of data, this check is carried out with regard to specific types of data or purposes of processing.

Of course, you can request information about the data we have stored about you at any time (see below) and, if there is no need for further processing, you can request deletion of the data or restriction of processing.

To which recipients is the data passed on?

In principle, your personal data will only be passed on to third parties if this is necessary for the performance of the contract with you, the transfer is permissible on the basis of a balancing of interests within the meaning of Art. 6 (1) f) GDPR, we are legally obliged to pass on the data or you have given your consent in this respect.

Your data may also be transferred to our subsidiary STAGETEC Sales and Services GmbH & Co. KG. The legal basis for this is on the one hand Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b GDPR, as this may be necessary for further contractual processing. On the other hand, our legitimate interest pursuant to Art. 6 (1) lit. f GDPR lies in the effective and efficient handling of our business processes, in particular manufacturing and production.

Where is the data processed?

Your personal data is processed by us exclusively in data centers in the Federal Republic of Germany.

Your rights as a "data subject"

You have the right to information about the personal data we process about you.

In the case of a request for information that is not made in writing, we ask for your understanding that we may then require proof from you that you are the person you claim to be.

Furthermore, you have a right to rectification or deletion or to restriction of processing, insofar as you are entitled to this by law.

Furthermore, you have a right to object to processing within the scope of the law. The same applies to a right to data portability.

In particular, you have a right to object to the processing of your data in connection with a direct marketing campaign in accordance with Article 21 (1) and (2) GDPR, if this is carried out on the basis of a balancing of interests.
